1. Rank the top 5 Calumet County committees you're interested in from 1 to 5 (1= greatest interest, 5 = least interest)

___ Administrative Services Committee - Ever wonder who helps make sure the county runs smoothly behind the scenes? The Administrative Services Committee does just that! This group helps manage the county's money, people, and resources. They review budgets, track spending, and help decide how funds are used. They also help set policies for county jobs—like pay, benefits, and workplace rules—and review new positions and job roles. The committee works with departments like Finance, Human Resources, IT, Emergency Management, and Economic Development. They also help oversee county property, technology, insurance, grants, and records. Overall, this committee helps make smart decisions so county services stay organized, fair, and effective.

___ Aging and Disability Resource Center Advisory Committee - The ADRC Advisory Committee helps make sure older adults, people with disabilities, and their caregivers get the support they need to live well in the community. This group listens to feedback, spots unmet needs, and helps guide programs like transportation, nutrition, and long-term care services. Committee members speak up for fairness and access, help plan for the future, and work with county leaders to improve services. Overall, they help make sure everyone—no matter their age or ability—has access to helpful, respectful, and inclusive resources.

___ Extension Education Committee - The Extension Education Committee helps make sure Extension programs—like 4-H—are reaching youth and families across Calumet County. This group looks at what programs are currently offered, figures out where there may be gaps, and helps find ways to expand access so more people can get involved. They use information like membership data and maps to understand who is being served and who might be missing out. The committee also reviews the Extension budget and shares feedback with county leaders. While they don't make final decisions, they play an important advisory role in helping Extension programs grow and improve.

___ Land & Water Conservation Committee - The Land and Water Committee helps protect the county's natural resources—like soil, water, lakes, and farmland. This group works with the Land and Water Conservation Department to support conservation efforts and make sure environmental programs are running effectively. They review budgets, help guide policies, and listen to concerns from landowners when special environmental issues come up. Overall, the committee helps balance caring for the environment with supporting farming, land use, and the health of local waterways.

___ Public Safety Committee - The Public Safety Committee helps keep the community safe and the justice system running smoothly. This group works with departments like the Sheriff's Office, courts, and emergency services to review budgets and make sure resources are being used wisely. They also check in on the county jail at least once a year to make sure it is clean, safe, and following the law. Overall, the committee helps oversee important public safety services that protect people and support fairness in the county.

___ Highway Committee - The Highway Committee helps keep county roads safe and in good condition. This group makes decisions about road construction and maintenance, including what equipment to buy and whether work is done by county crews or outside contractors. They also help manage how state and county funds are used for road projects and review the Highway Department's budget. Overall, the committee helps make sure transportation across the county stays safe, efficient, and reliable.

___ Planning, Zoning, & Farmland Conservation Committee - The Planning, Zoning, and Farmland Preservation Committee helps guide how land is used in the county—now and in the future. This group reviews plans for housing, farmland, parks, transportation, and community spaces to make sure growth is organized, fair, and sustainable. They work with county planners to review important documents and programs, help protect farmland and natural resources, and make recommendations about development. Overall, the committee helps shape communities that are safe, livable, and ready for the future.

___ Human Services Board - The Health & Human Services Board helps support the health and well-being of people in the county. This group looks at community health needs and helps guide programs that support public health, mental health, family services, home health care, hospice, and veteran services. They help set policies, review budgets, and work with county departments to make sure services are safe, effective, and accessible. Overall, the board plays a key role in helping create a community where people can stay healthy, get support when they need it, and thrive.
